ANÁLISIS ARTÍSTICO

The preparatory drawing for engraving no. 9, Tantalus from the serie The Caprices, shows some differences with respect to the print. The most significant is the way in which the background of the scene is approached. In the engraving, behind the two figures in the image, we can see the surface of a pyramid in which the stone ashlars of which it is composed have been differentiated. However, in the sketch that precedes the engraving, three diagonal lines are drawn that seem to allude to the pyramid although, if it were not for the existence of the engraving, we would not be able to indicate the presence of this architectural structure. Two of these lines could have been made to conceal the cut in the paper.

CONSERVACIÓN

El papel fue cortado en cuatro trozos y posteriormente pegado de nuevo sobre otro papel.
